

Foreign Language Resources for English Speaking Military Trainers

Military Review publishes in Arabic on a quarterly basis, but did you know that we also have been designated as a primary translation point for Field Manuals as we fight GWOT. Since 2006, Military Review has been involved in the translation of several Field Manuals into both the Arabic and Dari languages to aid and assist our many soldiers in their efforts to train, instruct and prepare soldiers in other armies such as those in Iraq and Afghanistan.

All of these translations are available from the COIN Operations Forum on the BCKS Professional Forums site (<https://forums.bcks.army.mil/>). BCKS requires you to become a member of the forum before being able to access documents.
