

CAC

COMBINED ARMS CENTER

INTELLECTUAL CENTER OF THE ARMY

Vol. 3, No. 5

May 2012

Hall of Fame inducts its first Marine

U.S. Army photo by Prudence Siebert

Inductee retired Marine Corps Gen. Charles Krulak is welcomed into the Fort Leavenworth Hall of Fame by Command and General Staff College Commandant Lt. Gen. David Perkins after unveiling Krulak's portrait May 24 at the Lewis and Clark Center. Krulak is the first Marine to be inducted into the Hall of Fame in the same year that marks 100 years of Marine attendance at CGSC. Krulak attended CGSC in 1976-77. Click to view more photos.

Story by Melissa Bower, Fort Leavenworth Lamp

The first Marine Corps officer inducted into the Fort Leavenworth Hall of Fame gave a few pieces of advice to military officers — don't let the joint spirit of the U.S. armed forces die, take time to think about modern warfare and take care of your family. Read full story

Visit to Ft. Leavenworth meaningful for Chiefs Crennel

U.S. Army photo by Deveney Wall

Head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, Romeo Crennel, and Deputy Commandant of the Command and General Staff College, Brig. Gen. Gordon B. Davis exchange gifts in appreciation of the visit. Click to view full story. Click to view more photos.

U.S. Army photo by LTC Jeff Allen

Ceremony for those who paid the ultimate sacrifice

LTG David G. Perkins and CSM Peter L. Cramer place the wreath at the Leavenworth National Cemetery on May 28, 2012. Click to read full story in the Leavenworth Times.

CAC Notable News and Events

May 11—Jump into record book isn't Army major's only goal, But the 49-year-old officer used the jump rope to stay awake and in top physical shape while she completed an elite Army training program at Fort Leavenworth. On Thursday, Walpole stepped up her game and attempted to get into the Guinness Book of World Records. Click to read full story. Click to view photos.

May 15—COL Dvoracek receives Legion of Merit Award, COL Michael Dvoracek received the Legion of Merit Award as Combined Arms Center senior leaders recognized the accomplishments of his Army training directorate. Dvoracek is the outgoing director of the Training Management Directorate (TMD), an organization he led for nearly two years. He received the award Monday at a ceremony in the Lewis and Clark Center's Pat Roberts Room. Click to read full story.

May 2—COL (P) Lundy named deputy commander at CAC-T, Army Chief of Staff Gen. Raymond T. Odierno announced that COL (P) Michael D. Lundy will be the new Deputy Commander of the Combined Arms Center for Training (CAC-T). Currently, Lundy is the Deputy Commander (Support), 1st Armored Division, Fort Bliss, Texas. He replaces COL (P) Robert "Pat" White who will leave to become the Assistant Division Commander (Support), 3rd Infantry Division, Fort Stewart, Ga. Click to read full story.

May 22—Service members vie for German badge, Service members in multi-colored military uniforms stood in line to receive the German Armed Forces Badge for Military Proficiency May 22. Members of every branch of the U.S. military and several international service members received their badges following a weeklong physical fitness event. Click to read full story.

May 31—Contracting NCO tops leadership course, Staff Sgt. Howard Kane, Operations Group Contemporary Operations Environment, Mission Command Training Program, recently graduated at the top of his Senior Leader Course at Huntsville, Ala. The course consisted of two weeks of Army common core skills such as lethal and nonlethal fires, full-spectrum operations, family violence, conflict management, ethics, Soldier's rights and physical security. SLC prepares students for responsibilities they may face as platoon sergeants. Despite being the junior ranking Soldier in his class, Kane graduated as the distinguished honor graduate. Click to read full story.

U.S. Army Combined Arms Center
415 Sherman Avenue
Fort Leavenworth, KS 66027
Visit the Combined Arms Center webpage

