

LTC Mark A. Felderman
Joint Staff, J-7
Interagency Coordinator for DOD Training

LTC Mark A. Felderman is the DOD lead for coordinating Interagency participation in DOD training, exercises, experimentation and education.

Commissioned in 1983 as an Infantry officer through the Officer Candidate School program, he has served at all levels from platoon through brigade. He has also served on the staffs of the United States Army Infantry School, United States Forces Korea, the Army National Guard, and currently serves on the Joint Staff of the Chairman of the Joints Chiefs Staff.

In June 2007, he was assigned to the Joint Staff, J-7 as the Senior Reserve Force Integrator. With duties to integrate our United States Government Agency partners into DOD training, exercises, experimentation, and education to improve U.S. Government readiness by maximizing the benefit of multi-agency integration.

He is a graduate of the Army's Airborne, Infantry Officer Basic, Infantry Officer Advance, Combined Arms Services and Staff School, Command and General Staff Course, and the National War College. He holds a BA in Business, MS in Foundations of Education, and a MS in National Security Strategy.

LTC Felderman is married.