

Mr Robert (Bob) Dalton, CKM, MF
Facilitator, Knowledge Management Network (KMNet), ProtectionNet and Virtual Worlds for Advanced Learning Communities of Practice

Bob Dalton retired from the Army in 1993 after a successful and diverse 21 year career. During this career he spent 7 years in the Adjutant General Branch, 5 years in the Engineer Branch and the remaining 9 years in the Quartermaster Branch.

Upon retirement he went full time in the IT industry as a software developer and engineer. From 1998 to 2005 he was President and owner of the Digital Logistics Software Development Company based in Arkansas. He has personally developed and authored over 30 commercial and military Windows software applications, many of which are still in use by the military today.

In March 2005 at the invitation of the HQDA G-4 office he left private business to become a contract facilitator for the LogNet Community of Practice at the Battle Command Knowledge System (BCKS) at Fort Leavenworth. During his two years as the Facilitator of LogNet this community of practice went from 500 members to over 18,000 and became one of the most successful military communities of practice in the Army. In 2006 LogNet won the E-Gov award in its category. On March 14th, 2007 Bob was awarded the 17th General Brehon B. Somervell Medal of Excellence by the CG of CASCOM for his work with LogNet and his many contributions to Army logistics.

Currently he is a Computer Science Corp contract facilitator for the BCKS Knowledge Management Network (KMNet) community of practice, the MANSCEN ProtectionNet Community of Practice and the recently opened joint BCKS/DAU Virtual Worlds for Advanced Learning Community of Practice.

He is certified as a knowledge manager with KMPro and the KM Institute. In December 2007 he was certified as a Master Facilitator by BCKS.

Bob has been involved with military gaming and simulations since 1970 as a hobby and personal interest. Other interests are Military History (WWII East Front), Science Fiction, and he is an avid collector of great DVD films (several hundred and counting).
