For having condoned without publically audible complaint her husband's marriage to the Department for some of the best years of her life

For having kept the home fires burning during those cold, winter evenings while her spouse and helpmate was attending seminars, SCUSA's, lectures, learned society meetings, debate tournaments, DM&E meeting, officer's calls, and generally goofing off

For having graded innumerable objective write, typed various reports, patiently and sympathetically heard numberless gripes, and kept her spouse's ego reduced to a manageable size

For having through patient forbearance, cheerful good nature, and the traditional strength and virtue of the Army Wife contributed immeasurably to the accomplishment of the mission of the Department

In Testimony Whereof, and by authority vested in me, I do confer upon

Ruth Forman
