

U.S. Army Combined Arms Center
and Fort Leavenworth

COL John T. Janiszewski
Director, National Simulation Center
Combined Arms Center
Fort Leavenworth, Kansas

Colonel Janiszewski is a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater in 1987 with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Management Computer Systems and was commissioned as a lieutenant in the Military Intelligence Corps.

After completion of the Military Intelligence Office Basic Course, Colonel Janiszewski was assigned to the Republic of Korea as a Collection and Jamming platoon leader, Company B, 532nd Military Intelligence Battalion. In 1990 COL Janiszewski was assigned to the 25th Infantry Division where he served as an Intelligence and Electronic Warfare Support Officer to 1st Infantry Brigade and S2, 5-14 Infantry Battalion. After graduating from the Military Intelligence Officer Advanced course in 1994, COL Janiszewski served in the 743rd Military Intelligence Battalion as a Signals Intelligence Officer with assignment at the National Reconnaissance Office and Commander, C Company, 743rd MI Battalion. Following company command COL Janiszewski attended the University of Central Florida where he graduated in 1999 with a Master of Science degree in Interactive Simulation and Training Systems. He was then designated as a Simulation Operations Officer, Functional Area 57 and assigned to I Corps in Fort Lewis, WA. There he served as a Corps Simulations Officer, Simulations Branch Chief, and Chief of the Mission Support Training Facility (MSTF).

Following graduation from the Command and General Staff College in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas in 2002, Colonel Janiszewski was assigned to the 7th Army Training Command in Grafenwoehr, Germany and served as the Operations Branch Chief, Operations Officer and Executive Officer for the Directorate of Simulations.

COL Janiszewski was then assigned to the Unit of Action Maneuver Battle Lab at Fort Knox in 2005 where he was assigned as the Chief of Experimentation. In 2007 COL Janiszewski was assigned to the United States Joint Forces Command's J7 as the Chief of the Training Development and Innovation Branch where he was responsible for developing training systems, training support systems and simulations for Combatant Commands. In July 2010, COL Janiszewski was assigned to Carlisle Barracks, PA to attend the US Army War College. He graduated and received a Masters Degree in Strategic Studies in June 2011. He then deployed to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom and served as the Director, J7, U.S. Forces – Afghanistan.

Colonel Janiszewski is a Joint qualified officer and earned the Ranger tab, and Airborne and Air Assault badges.

Colonel Janiszewski is married and has one child.

