

Detailed description of Collections available within the Finding Aids Collection

Individual and Group Reports - Approximately 33 linear feet. These are individual and group student reports. The Individual Reports were written between 1930 and 1936 and are organized by academic year and then alphabetically by the name of the student. There are lists of the papers for each class year at the beginning of that year's files. Group reports were written between 1930 and 1933 and are similarly organized. CARL is currently cataloging these student papers, which have not previously been visible in any catalog.

Brigadier General Wilson A. Shoffner. Papers. 1 box (6 in.). Includes speeches, trip reports, memorandums, letter of instruction, briefings, letters of appreciation, incoming and outgoing correspondence, equipment requests, and a talking paper--mostly as related to BG Shoffner's duties in connection with the Deep Attack Programs Office.

Bruce Cooper Clarke. Papers, 1940-1985, with the bulk of the collection from the period of 1983-1985. 1.5 linear feet. The collection includes magazine and newspaper articles, papers (published and unpublished), notes, correspondence (to and from General Clarke), pamphlets, maps, photographs, instructional material, graphic training aids, audio tapes, transcripts of speeches, and a copy of the book Clarke at St. Vith: The Sergeants' General. General Clarke is the author of most items. General Clarke was consulted during the establishment of the Center of Army Leadership (CAL) at CGSC and supplied the materials in this collection.

The Combined Arms and Fort Leavenworth Archives (CAFLA) Collection - Approximately 866 linear feet and growing each year. This collection has non-record copies of documents (reports, correspondence, etc.) that detail the operations and activities of the Combined Arms Command (CAC) and its subordinate organizations and other agencies and organizations located at or reporting to Fort Leavenworth. There are some materials from the 1970s but the strength of the collection begins in 1980. Organization is chronological by fiscal year then alphabetical by agency/organization and subordinate groups. The CAC historians organize the materials and prepare annual print guides.

Combined Arms Command and Fort Leavenworth telephone directories from 1913 to 1981 (an incomplete collection).

1st Lieutenant Maxwell D. Taylor. Notebooks, 1935. One box.

VII Corps Gulf War Collection - Approximately 100 linear feet. The VII Corps collection contains records of operations, after action reports, lessons learned, etc., of units of the corps during Operations Desert Shield/Desert Storm. Access is restricted to DOD personnel with a valid security clearance.

Guest Speaker Tapes - Approximately 173 linear feet/2,350 titles. Presentations by guest speakers at the Command and General Staff College have been taped since 1952. Most of the collection is in reel-to-reel format, but some have been converted to cassette. Recent tapes include audiocassettes and some videotapes. Graduation speakers are included. There is a name index file to the collection. CGSC's non-attribution policy places restrictions on access to this collection.

Photograph Collection - The Archives has faculty, staff, and class photographs and some negatives from the first Infantry and Cavalry School class in 1883 to 1964 when yearbook photos replaced the old system. There are a few historical photos of buildings/scenes at Fort Leavenworth though most photos of this type are held by the Frontier Army Museum. Separate still photo collections fall into three sections: 1) topography and terrain photos of parts of various countries (from the World War II-1960s timeframe with many still classified); 2) World War II and Korean War era pictures of campaign scenes, weapons, etc., (including classified items); and 3) a small collection of photos of military and government personalities--mostly related to Fort Leavenworth.

William M. Hoge. GEN William M. Hoge Collection, 1942-1955. 1 box (5 in.) The collection contains correspondence, papers, pamphlets, maps, newspaper clippings, magazine articles, photographs, and items related to the ALCAN Highway and Ludendorff Bridge at Remagen. The paper, "The Engineers in the Crossing of the Meuse River," by then Captain Hoge is included.

World War I Pamphlet Collection A collection of over 200 pamphlets covering various aspects of the U.S. Army's participation in World War I. These pamphlets date mainly from 1917-1918 and were issued as informational/instructional material during the war. The collection consists of 24 boxes broken down into 13 categories: Air Corps, Artillery, Balloons/Anti-aircraft, Cavalry/Tanks/Anti-tank, Chemical, Engineers, General, Infantry, Large Units, Machine Guns, Military vehicles, Signal, Trench mortars and Supply.

World War II Personal Collections. This very small collection contains some memorabilia and recollections of people who served in World War II. One folder contains the written recollections of Don E. Westmoreland, a tail gunner assigned to the 413th Bomb Squadron, 96th Bombardment Group, 8th Air Force. He served in the European theater. The second collection contains memorabilia of a member of Company I, 3rd Battalion, 124th Infantry Regiment Combat Team. This unit served in the Pacific Theater in World War II. Included are 2 unit diaries with hand drawn maps. One unit diary covers the Driniumor River Campaign in New Guinea, the other the Mindanao campaign. There are also copies of some personal memorabilia of the donor, Joachim Freudenberger.

Army Regulations (ARs) - This incomplete subcollection includes bound volumes arranged by year and modern era regulations arranged first by regulation number. Bound volumes cover the following year: 1779, 1821, 1825, 1841, 1847, 1857, 1861, 1881, 1889, 1895, 1896, 1901, 1904-5, 1908, 1910, 1913, and 1921-37. Some early volumes are in the Rare Books collection.

Field Manuals (FMs) - Approximately 150 linear feet. This incomplete and small subcollection includes some early field service regulations from the early 1900s to 1939. Most FMs are from the World War II period with some Korean War period items. Some are available on microfiche.

General Orders, Circulars, and Bulletins - War Department/Department of the Army. Approximately 33 linear feet of bound volumes. An incomplete set that spans from 1861 to 1973 and includes index volumes for some years/periods. There are volumes for the Army Expeditionary Force in World War I.

General and Special Orders--Fort Leavenworth - This set of bound volumes spans the period from 1881 to 1945 and includes orders for the Infantry and Cavalry School, Army Service Schools, General Service Schools, and Command and General Staff School.

Special Orders--HQ Fort Leavenworth and HQ Combined Arms Command - The bound volumes cover the period from January 1946 to 1978.

Special Orders--War Department/Department of the Army - Incomplete set of bound volumes includes orders for 1882, 1884, and 1900-1970.

Special Orders--Department of the Missouri - Archives has bound volumes for 1904, 1906, 1909 and 1910 only.

Special Orders--HQ, Philippines Division - The bound volumes cover the period from 1910 to 1920 and 1922.

Secretary of War Annual Reports - Removed from the regular collection for preservation purposes, this set of volumes is in fragile condition due to paper deterioration. The incomplete set covers the years from the Civil War period to the later 1930s. Only a few of the many volumes are missing.
