

CAC-E Weekly Update for 26June

"Dr. Mahir Ibrahimov, program manager for the CAC Culture, Regional Expertise and Language Management Office (LRECMO) addressed the Global Officers (GO) Project ROTC students. He discussed the real issues with language learning, the goals of the military concerning language & Cultural training, and explained why what the students are about to embark on is so important. Project GO funds qualified ROTC students to study languages intensively over the summer and funds them for study abroad after their second semester in the language. The presentation was video recorded and will be placed on GO Project website.
